Your research project should be based primarily on scholarly books and articles in scholarly journals.

How do you find and identify scholarly sources?

Scholarly Sources
• Are written by scholars or professionals in the field.
  Writers are usually allied with universities or government agencies.
• Always cite their sources of information in the form of footnotes or bibliography.
• Give research results, include specialized vocabulary and are aimed at specialized audiences.

Scholarly Sources
• Are written by scholars or professionals in the field.
  Writers are usually allied with universities or government agencies.
• Always cite their sources of information in the form of footnotes or bibliography.
• Give research results, include specialized vocabulary and are aimed at specialized audiences.
• Journal cover and pages tend to be plain in design, with few or no pictures or graphics.
How to Identify Scholarly Sources

Scholarly Sources
• Are written by scholars or professionals in the field. Writers are usually allied with universities or government agencies.
• Always cite their sources of information in the form of footnotes or bibliography.
• Give research results, include specialized vocabulary and are aimed at specialized audiences.
• Journal cover and pages tend to be plain in design, with few or no pictures or graphics.
• Are mostly published by professional organizations, associations, scholarly groups or universities and colleges.

Furthermore, Scholarly Sources
• Authors are always named, and their institutional affiliation is given.
• Journal issues are likely to be successively numbered (for example, issue 1 includes pages 1-356, issue 2 has pages 357-585, etc.).
• Articles tend to be long (10-40 pages).

Furthermore, Scholarly Sources
• Authors are always named, and their institutional affiliation is given.
• Journal issues are likely to be successively numbered (for example, issue 1 includes pages 1-356, issue 2 has pages 357-585, etc.).
• Articles tend to be long (10-40 pages).

Furthermore, Scholarly Sources
• Authors are always named, and their institutional affiliation is given.
• Journal issues are likely to be successively numbered (for example, issue 1 includes pages 1-356, issue 2 has pages 357-585, etc.).
• Articles tend to be published less often (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually).

Furthermore, Scholarly Sources
• Authors are always named, and their institutional affiliation is given.
• Journal issues are likely to be published less often (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually).
• Are usually found in a library or in a professor’s office.
How to Identify Scholarly Sources

Furthermore, Scholarly Sources
- Authors are always named, and their institutional affiliation is given.
- Journal issues are likely to be successively numbered (for example, issue 1 includes pages 1-356, issue 2 has pages 357-585, etc.).
- Articles tend to be long (10-40 pages).
- Journal issues tend to be published less often (monthly, quarterly, semi-annually).
- Are usually found in a library or in a professor’s office.
- Examples: Articles in Journal of American History, Journal of Education or books published by a University Press written by a scholar.

How to Write a Works Cited Page

Since your research project is based on scholarly books and articles in scholarly journals, you must list those sources on a Works Cited page.

How do you write a works cited page?

How to Write a Works Cited Page

You must write bibliographic entries for all the stories, books, or articles that you refer to in your essay. You do this on a “Works Cited” page, which is a separate page at the back of your essay.

When preparing a works cited list, write—on a separate page—“Works Cited” centered at the top of the page.

How to Write a Works Cited Page

You must write bibliographic entries for all the stories, books, or articles that you refer to in your essay. You do this on a “Works Cited” page, which is a separate page at the back of your essay.

When preparing a works cited list, write—on a separate page—“Works Cited” centered at the top of the page.

How to Compose Bibliographic Entries for your Works Cited Page

Single-author book:
Last Name, First Name. Full Title and Subtitle. Edition number if greater than first. Place of Publication: Publisher Name, Year of publication.

How to Compose Bibliographic Entries for your Works Cited Page

Single-author book:
Last Name, First Name. Full Title and Subtitle. Edition number if greater than first. Place of Publication: Publisher Name, Year of publication.

Multiple author book (and second edition):
Last Name, First Name, First Name Last Name. Title and subtitle. Edition number if greater than first. Place of Publication: Publisher Name, Year of publication.

(The rules for ordering multiple authors apply to articles too.)

How to Compose Bibliographic Entries for your Works Cited Page

An article in an edited anthology:
Last Name, First Name. "Full title and subtitle of article in quotes." Full Title and Subtitle of anthology. Ed. editors first and last name. Place of Publication: Publisher Name, Year of publication. First page of article ‐ last page of article.

An article in a scholarly journal:
Last Name, First Name. "Full title and subtitle of article in quotes." Title of Journal Volume Number. Issue number (date of publication): first page of article ‐ last page of article.

How to Compose Bibliographic Entries for your Works Cited Page

- Consult your Prentice Hall Reference Guide for further instructions on citing works properly in MLA style.
- There are literally hundreds of different kinds of sources you can cite, from newspapers to the Bible.

How to Compose Bibliographic Entries for your Works Cited Page

- Consult your Prentice Hall Reference Guide for further instructions on citing works properly in MLA style.
- There are literally hundreds of different kinds of sources you can cite, from newspapers to the Bible.
- You can find the instructions for how to cite all these sources in your Prentice Hall Reference Guide.

10/2/2014
Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Single-author books follow this style:

Last name, first name. Title of Book. Edition if greater than first. City of Publication: Name of Press, Year of publication.

Fix this entry:

Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Single-author books follow this style:

Last name, first name. Title of Book. Edition if greater than first. City of Publication: Name of Press, Year of publication.

Fix this entry:

Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Single-author articles or stories follow this style:

Author last name, first name. "Title of Article or Story" Name of Journal volume number,issue number (Month Year): first page-last page.

Fix this journal entry:

And this short story in a collection:

Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Single-author articles or stories follow this style:

Author last name, first name. "Title of Article or Story" Name of Journal volume number,issue number (Month Year): first page-last page.

Fix this journal entry:

And this short story in a collection:

Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Single-author article or story in an edited volume follow this style:

Author last name, author first name. "Title of Story or Article." Title of Book. Edition number if greater than first. Ed. First name of first editor Last name of first editor and First name of second editor and last name of second editor. City of Publication: Name of Press, Year of Publication. First page number of piece-last page number of piece.

Fix this entry:

Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Single-author article or story in an edited volume follow this style:

Author last name, author first name. "Title of Story or Article." Title of Book. Edition number if greater than first. Ed. First name of first editor Last name of first editor and First name of second editor and last name of second editor. City of Publication: Name of Press, Year of Publication. First page number of piece-last page number of piece.

Fix this entry:

Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Multiple-author books follow this style:

Last name of first author, first name of first author and first name of second author. Title of Book. City of Publication: Name of Press, Year of publication.

Fix this entry:

Fix the following bibliographic entries:

Multiple-author books follow this style:

Last name of first author, first name of first author and first name of second author. Title of Book. City of Publication: Name of Press, Year of publication.

Fix this entry:
