

19. SCHEDULE OF ASSIGNMENTS: Before you read the assigned texts (listed below), review the corresponding reading guide on Desire2Learn to help you formulate your own ideas and judgments about the assigned works. Once you have read the actual selections, go to the Desire2Learn discussion forum and initiate your original post during weeks original posts are due (this is your main post) and also upload a MS Word file of that same post to its corresponding assignment folder. Your objective in your main posts is to show your understanding and critical analysis of the text and to engage your classmates in discussion. Following your main post, you will respond to at least two other posts to continue further analysis that was begun by others (these will be your response posts). The learning process in this course takes place through a communal discussion effort in which everyone is encouraged to participate.
